

A MARKED CASE OF HEALING

When Christ was upon earth He said to them who could not discern His doctrine, "Believe Me for My works' sake," and He frequently referred to His works as the evidence of His Messiah ship.

Often during the past few weeks, as we have watched the works of Elder W. G. Raymond, in Troy and Lansingburgh, we have mentally said the same thing to the unbelieving populace, "Believe Him for His works' sake." From the number of cases near at hand one is selected for record that they who have not seen, may hear and believe.

Two or more years ago, the attention of the writer was attracted to an old lady of nearly seventy years, as she regularly passed the door, on her way to and from meetings of the Salvation Army. She was sad of face and slow of step. In time, it was learned that her afflictions were imperfect sight, for which she had for thirty years worn very strong glasses; the fingers of neither of her hands could she close; the left arm had forty years ago been twisted violently out of place at the elbow, and during that time had had only a side motion; for eighteen years she had suffered frail chronic diarrhea, and for nearly four years had been afflicted with a large tumor in the abdomen.

For some weeks this old lady attended meetings in Miss Musgrove's Faith Rooms, 250 Third Avenue in Lansingburgh, where at this time Elder Raymond was also laboring. As she listened to the teachings and experiences given, she believed, and finally presented herself as the subject of prayer for Divine Healing. Elder Raymond, Miss Musgrove and others prayed with her, anointing her with oil according to James 5:14,15. While prayer was being offered, she felt the healing power go through her. As the Elder rose to his feet, she said, "If now I could have the use of my left arm!" He touched the arm at the elbow and immediately it was healed and has done perfect service ever since. The fingers of her hands now move as of yore. She has removed her glasses and has not replaced them, but her sight has steadily improved. The diarrhea and the tumor have disappeared believes herself completely healed.

A happier old lady is not to found. She bubbles over with laughter while her face is aglow with sunshine... soul-shine. She is never at rest, carrying the good tidings of Christ's power on earth today heal the sick. A Savior who is "the same yesterday, today and forever."
